Our 100 Best Suspense

Tales Well-calculated to Keep You in...SUSPENSE!

First heard in 1942, "Suspense" was so good at glueing its large weekly audience to the edge of its chair that it ran for over 20 years and claimed the distinction of being the very last dramatic show scheduled on network radio. These cassettes contain all the famous actors (Orson Welles, Agnes Moorehead), intelligent scripts, inspired production and sound effects that make "Suspense" one of the best from RADIO YESTERYEAR.®

NEW! Special RUSH "Overtime" Service

Documentary

Does ET really exist?

WHO'S OUT THERE? (1975-USA)
Hosted by ORSON WELLES. Narrated by PETER THOMAS. Produced by the NATIONAL AERONAUTICS AND SPACE ADMINISTRATION. Is there extraterrestrial life in the universe? Do we indeed live in an inhabited universe? Can science fiction be science fact? The legendary Orson Welles, who hosts this thoughtful investigation into the matter, believes that this is most definitely so. Along with a gallery of distinguished scientists and educators, he offers evidence that humankind is not the universe's sole life force. Most fascinating of all are footage of, and Welles' commentary on, NASA's various explorations of Mars and scientists' research into the whats, whens and wheres of these life forms. Orson reads from his historic "War of the Worlds" broadcast; listeners who heard the program recall the panic the radio show caused. Orson explores Mars without leaving his easy chair, a young Carl Sagan explains the high probability that there's someone out there! 28 minute.s

Propaganda

Homefront to battlefield...heroic fighters from every walk of life

NOSTALGIA WORLD WAR II VIDEO LIBRARY #11 (1944, 1945, USA).

1. WHAT MAKES A BATTLE (1945-USA). Exemplary documentary/propaganda piece which chillingly answers the question posed in its title. First, there are the supplies that are the backbone of the battle. Then, there are the millions of workers who produce these supplies. Finally, there is the fighting man-and there's plenty of vivid footage of American soldiers.
2. THE FIFTH ARMY REPORT FROM THE BEACHHEAD (1945-USA). A detailed pictorial record of "one of the boldest and toughest combined operations fought by the Fifth Army on the blood-soaked Italian boot": a surprise assault against the Nazis at a then-obscure coastal town called Anzio.
3. FREEDOM COMES HIGH (1944-USA). With JAMES CRAIG, BARBARA BRITTON, DONALD COOK. This United States Navy production is an artifact of its time, a mini-drama about a pretty, all-American girl who toils in a factory by day and tends to her baby at night while pining for her husband, who's away at war.
4. THE 957TH DAY (1944-USA). The title refers to the 957th day of World War II-one not unlike the day before, or the day after. Men will fly planes, fire guns, land on beaches, fight the enemy face-to-face-and men will die.
5. WE SAID WE'D COME BACK (1944-USA). An all-inclusive report to the American people on the accomplishments of the United States Navy in the war effort: its 50,000 vessels, 34,000 planes and more than 3 million fighting men which, all together, comprise "a colossus of sea power." 60 minutes total.

Cartoons

Spinach freak loves, fights, and runs for president

POPEYE FOR PRESIDENT!

(1952-1956-USA)

COLOR. Popeye the Sailor, the popular cartoon character created by ELZIE SEGAR, also proved to be as equally durable as the star of a two-plus decades long series of animated cartoons. Here are nine enjoyable Popeye cartoons, all from the 1950s.

1. SHUTEYE POPEYE (1952). With POPEYE. Popeye's snoring is as loud as a blasting siren. In fact, it arouses a spunky - and sadistic - little mouse, who tries shut the snoozing sailor up.
2. BRIDE AND GLOOM (1954). With POPEYE, OLIVE OYL. Tomorrow, Popeye and Olive Oyl are set to be wed, and Popeye is one gob who's deliriously in love . Olive dreams that their marriage will produce a pair of thoroughly bratty and obnoxious twin boys. In the morning, she's not so sure that she will be willing to risk this dream becoming a reality.
3. POPEYE FOR PRESIDENT (1956). With POPEYE, OLIVE OYL, BLUTO. Released in the presidential election year of 1956, this features Popeye running for the land's highest office on the Spinach Party - and promising that, if elected, there'll be two spinaches for every pot. His opponent, Bluto, represents the Blutocratic Party.
4. GREEK MIRTHOLOGY (1954). With POPEYE, BLUTO. Uncle Popeye tells his four obstinate nephews the story of "Hoikules," an ancient warrior who consumes guess which vegetable so that he may combat the Big Bully - who, of course, resembles Bluto.
5. A HAUL IN ONE (1956). With POPEYE, OLIVE OYL, BLUTO. It's moving day, and Olive hasn't finished packing. Popeye and Bluto (the movers) are bowled over by her beauty They become bitter rivals as they try to outdo each other and impress the demure Miss Oyl.
6. COOKIN' WITH GAGS (1954). With POPEYE, OLIVE OYL, BLUTO. Popeye and Bluto are again rivals as they appear at Olive's door to escort her on a picnic.
7. TAXI-TURVY (1954). With POPEYE, OLIVE OYL, BLUTO. Popeye and Bluto are Big City cab drivers, who do battle when Olive innocently arrives on the scene seeking a taxi.
8. ANCIENT FISTORY (1952). With POPEYE, OLIVE OYL, BLUTO. In this take-off on "Cinderella," Olive is the fair princess who is set to choose her prince at the Grand Ball. Bluto is a member of the uppercrust, while Popeye toils in rags - that is, until his fairy godfather arrives.
9. POPEYE'S 20TH ANNIVERSARY (1954). With POPEYE, OLIVE OYL, BLUTO. Popeye made his screen debut in 1933, opposite Betty Boop. At a testimonial in his honor, he screens highlights from his star-studded career. Included are animated appearances of BOB HOPE, BING CROSBY, DEAN MARTIN JERRY LEWIS, and JIMMY DURANTE. 55 minutes total.

Romantic Drama

Parisian playboy finally falls in love

A PARISIAN ROMANCE (1932-USA)

With LEW CODY, MARION SHILLING, GILBERT ROLAND, JOYCE COMPTON. Lew Cody is ideally cast in this graceful romantic drama, in which be offers an easygoing performance as the Baron, a wealthy, worldly -and, in his way, world-weary-cynic. The Baron passes his hours galavanting arount the City, flirting with pretty girls. He steadfastly refuses to be tied down to any one. One day, he meets the one woman who is special: Claudette, "the finest sewwtest girl in the world." She's set to wed Victor, a struggling artist. Victor dislikes the Baron because of his well-earned reputation for trifling with and discarding women. This dislike is sure to turn to outright rage as the Baron makes a play for Claudette. 77 minutes.

"Silent' Drama

Flaming love for a Flapper in the Roaring '20s

THE QUEEN OF THE CHORUS

(1928-USA)

With VIRGINIA BROWNE FAIR, REX LEASE BETTY FRANCISCO. Here is a bright, cleverly plotted romantic drama of New York during the Roaring Twenties: a thrill-a-minute era of scantily clad chorus girls, Park Avenue playboys and glitzy night life. Queenie Dale has set herself apart from the average flapper. She's a modest. dignified. old-fashioned type concerned not with insincere men and material possessions.she finds herself smitten with a stranger—who turns out to be the employee of Gordon Trent, a playboy who's been unsuccessfully wooing her. Trent is setting off on a European vacation, and he leaves his house and car in Billy's care. Billy and Queenie meet again, and a romance blossoms. She decides to give love a whirl—and the plot is certainly bound to thicken when the devious Trent. who remains obsessed with Queenie, returns from his trip. Silent Drama"

Hitler's lover makes a movie

"THE BLUE LIGHT (1931-Germany)

With LENI RIEFENSTAHL, MATHIAS WAIMANN. Directed by LENI RIEFENSTAHL. Leni Riefenstahl was a beautiful actress and brilliant filmmaker whose career was forever tainted by her artistic and political union with Adolph Hitler after the Nazis came to power in Germany. The Blue Light is Riefenstahl's first film as a director; she is the leading lady as well, and also served as producer, editor and co-author (with the Hungarian film theorist and director BELA BALAZS. This is an intriguing allegory about a mysterious, mystical woman called Junta. She arrives in a mountain villace intent upon scaling the summit of Mount Cristallo, an especially treacherous peak, where a blue light is known to shine at full moon. The source of the light Is a cave of crystals, which may be reached by a secret route that is only, known to Junta. Tragedy comes when a painter in love with Junta discovers the route. The film is enhanced by some luminous cinematography, and stunning views of the ice-capped Dolomite Alps, where it was shot on location. Title cards in English. "Silent" film with original organ score, correct projection speed. 53 minutes.

Sol's son's secret sessions

THE QUEEN OF SHEBA

(1953-Italy)

The time is 1000 B.C. and King Solomon. This exciting, impressively mounted spectacle tells the story of the Queen of Sheba and Solomon's hunk of a son, Prince Rehoboam. Upon the instructions of the king, Rehoboam bids farewell to his fiancée and makes his way to the land of Sheba on a secret mission. Rehoboam and Balkis meet and promptly fall in love - but there's a hitch: she's been condemned by a high priest to live a life without love or passion. Will Balkis be able to deny her feelings for the prince? What will she do when she learns his true identity? Dubbed into English. 103 minutes.

Johnny plays Carson. Hiyo-o-o!

FIGHTING WITH KIT CARSON

(1933-USA)

With JOHNNY MACK BROWN, BETSY KING ROSS, NOAH BEERY, SR., NOAH BEERY, JR., TULLY MARSHALL, EDMUND BREESE, WILLIAM FARNUM. 12 episode Mascot serial. Johnny Mack Brown was one of the most popular Western movie stars ever to grace the screen. He's cast as the title character, the legendary frontier scout whom the United States Treasury Department orders to rush a shipment of gold across the vast western wilderness, to the Pacific Coast. Immediately, the gold is "stolen," and Carson finds himself accused of the crime. Noah Beery, Sr. makes a formidable villain: Cyrus Kraft is a greedy, unscrupulous fur trader who stirs up the otherwise peaceful Cheyenne to do battle against the "palefaces." It's also fun to see Noah Beery, Jr. playing Nakomas, an Indian lad whose father is murdered by Kraft. The serial is crammed with galloping horses, whooping Indians, blazing guns, frame-ups and double-crosses, kidnappings and narrow escapes, as well as some mighty fancy stuntwork. Then there are the mysterious "mystery riders," a bloodthirsty lot who are bitter enemies of the Cheyenne, and who have been harassing pioneers. How will their actions impact on the outcome of the scenario? 270 minutes.

Adventure Drama

Valiant swordsman battles seductive "black widow" spider!

THE BLACK ARCHER

(1963-Italy)

COLOR. With GERARD LANDRY. From its first sequence on, this action-packed period adventure offers no shortage of swordplay and intrigue. Landry stars as a dashing, pure-hearted count's son. His father is promptly murdered, a crime instigated by various members of the king's court who wish to consolidate their power. Our hero, now the last surviving member of his family, plots to gain revenge. First, though, he must determine the identities of his enemies. They include a pair of cousins, one a dashing Don Juan and the other an older, balding, deformed sadist whose nickname is "The Devil's Hoofprint." Then there is his most unusual adversary: a bloodthirsty lady who's forever garbed in black, and who is as evil as any of her cohorts. Dubbed into English. 93 minutes.

Bumbling heroes make you want to cheer for the bad guys!

DANGER AHEAD

(1935-USA)

With LAURENCE GRAY, SHEILA MANNORS, J. FARRELL MCDONALD, FUZZY KNIGHT, and BRYANT WASHBURN. The action never lets up in this fast-and-furious melodrama which opens with a fist fight, a robbery, and then another fist fight. The bad guys all wear dark suits and sport moustaches; the good guy is clean-shaven, and is garbed in a light suit. His name is Jerry, and he's a tough, shrewd newspaperman. Jerry is attempting to muscle in on a gang of thieves who have pilfered $40,000 from a sea captain. He retrieves the loot, but the racketeers will now be putting the squeeze on him. Along the way, he romances the captain's daughter, and he's aided in no small degree by his buddy Fred. This is the kind of film in which a cab will mysteriously appear just when Jerry is in need of transportation. Don't look for logic here, just sit back and enjoy. 58 minutes.

A rich birthday cake you'd love to eat!

THE FUR TRAP

With COLLEEN SNDERSON, MARLENE WILLOUGHBY, KELLY MINT, BILL BERRY. Ted and Sheila are having marriage problems. Ted's an advertising exec who's in trouble with the Purr Detergent account. Sheila, played by Colleen Anderson, is a yummy blonde (a real blonde!) who gets a job in a fur coat factory to help makes ends meet. And the ends sure do meet! The perfect fetish film for those who love to see the fur fly! The best scene has got to be the two girls on a pile of fur coats. The big finale takes place at a stag party, when Sheila pops out of a cake. You'd love to lick this frosting! A better-than-average romp! 74 minutes.

An 88th Message from The Theatre of Your Imagination!

"Hitey-Hi and Hohtey-Ho! It's the Brickmush Man!" sings out a homecoming Vic to a waiting Rush and Sade.

While you might not be ecstatic at finding the breakfast delivery of Brickmush on your doorstep, just one listen to Radio Yesteryear's Vic and Sade will convince you there are thousands of sounds out there that can make us all feel young again! Ask for a FREE Vic and Sade Reserch Report anytime before December 31!

There's the blustering Gildersleeve, a suave Jack Benny, the creaking door of Inner Sanctum, and so much more! Sounds and echoes of a time when radio opened up a world for us like nothing else. Or since!

I'm sure as you leaf through our new 88th catalogue you're going to find yourself humming the tunes of Glenn Miller at the Cafe Rouge, Tommy Dorsey at the Meadowbrook, and remembering the liquid rhythms of Lionel Hampton.

If you've never heard these giants and others just like them in their original gigs, be prepared to live (or re-live) a time when their music was always in our ears and our hearts.

Have you ever been terrified, I mean really terrified by Arch Oboler's Lights Out? (It'll make today's scariest terror films seem like nursery stories!) Or have you ever wondered why Ed Wynn, Easy Aces, William Bendix, Eddie Cantor, Lucy and Desi created side-splitting shows that have never been surpassed?

Leaf through these pages. And while you're at it, be sure to check our Newest Radio crates on Page 25. Cavort with the Marx Brothers, shiver with an ominous Peter Lorre or stomp and swing with some of the greatest tunes from World War II. Remember, these make such great gifts you'll want to order duplicates for (crate) gift giving!

We're also bringing you more "Listener's Digest," 60 minute tapes of valuable shows so you can build your own library of Old Time Radio Shows quickly and easily.

You'll want the June 30, 1940 (1940!) original show of Glenn Miller's Moonlight Serenade, Fred Allen's December 28, 1947 show (Remember Ipana/Sal Hepatica, Tender Leaf Tea, Chase & Sanborn?) Even the sponsors' messages are a delight.

There's also new Video releases that will take you into outer space or a chance to vote for Popeye for President. Some may raise your eyebrows: all will keep you glued to your sets.

Echoes? A world you've only heard Mom n' Pop talk about, laugh about? Don't wait, that world is out there for you, too! Thanks for listening, until next time...

Sincerely,
